

Gary Tazelaar, RPA Property Manager

As a Property Manager at Schafer Richardson, Gary manages the facilities at Parkside Building Medical Center in an efficient manner so that all the building operating systems meet current mechanical standards, the tenant needs are met, and the financial parameters of the owners are achieved. He monitors the financial performance of Parkside and develops annual budgets to ensure adherence to pre-defined financial goals. He supervises and directs the staff as necessary to create a clean, safe, professional working environment for tenants to provide their services.

Gary began his career in the heart of Washington, D.C. and relocated to Minneapolis in 1988. He has over 30 years experience working in both the commercial and residential real estate industry. He believes his job is an important part of a much larger community where quality service is his goal.

Gary lives in Minnetonka with his wife, and two children.

Education and Training

- Associates Degree in Business Management
- Real Property Administrator (RPA)
- Real Estate License
- Certified Property Manager (CPM) Designation in Progress.

Professional Affiliations

- Building Owner's and Manager's Association (BOMA)
- Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM)