John Klatt Project Field Manager SR Construction

John has been with SchaferRichardson managing various construction projects for almost 10 years. He joined SR after working as a sub-contractor on one of our first projects. Kit and Brad were impressed with his knowledge of every aspect of the construction process as well as his work ethic. They brought John on knowing he could manage SR construction jobs and build SR Construction Services into a profitable business.

John's role as an estimator is where he brings the most to the table and John's unmatched experience with tenant build-outs makes him one of SR's greatest assets. He is known for accurate estimates as well as his ability to layout unforeseen future problems. John is responsible for vendor selection and job scheduling. The majority of SRC's work takes place in older restored buildings that bring with them a wide array of problems. John has proven he can provide cost effective solutions and on time completion of jobs even in this difficult environment.

As head of SR Construction's field operations John has a number of responsibilities, not the least of which, is overseeing SRC's labor force. He schedules SRC field staff, at the same time managing sub-contractor timetables to provide fast efficient work sites.

On any given day John can be found on the jobsite providing strategies for faster, more efficient job completion, or technical advice on building structures to his field staff. It's rare to see John sitting down or not talking on his phone. The depth and breadth of his construction know-how has made John a leader in the building restoration and tenant improvement fields.
